Nostalgia: The New Kick

You've come a long way, Baby.

There will always be a past to review.

We are especially aware of our past this year at FHS. Our nation is celebrating its 200th anniversary as a nation, and our city is celebrating its centennial.

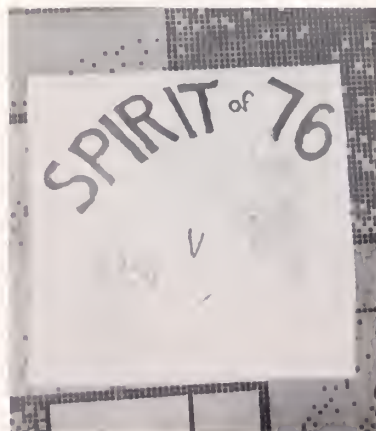

Although we are looking back on our 200th birthday, many of us are celebrating our Sweet Sixteenth, complete with wearing penny loafers and rolled up jeans. The fifties have made quite an impact on us as we mimic the Fonz from "Happy Days."

Who said you can't relax in school?

Yesterday all your troubles were so far away. Right, Mrs. Earley?

Even our posters reflect our traditions.

Graffiti Day, 1975. Do you remember when miniskirts were the order of the day?

Many of us think our styles are us, but, in reality, long dresses, faded blue jeans, and even platform shoes have been hailed by our mothers and fathers, or even our grandparents as "their" fashions. Of course, our generation adapted these styles, and, we like to think, chose only the best characteristics. Its a wheel within a wheel. The whole thing goes in cycles.

A thirst for the good old days has even hit our politicians as they yell for the days of honor and integrity before Watergate. Many of our students are singing M-I-C-K-E-Y M-O-U-S-E, because of reruns of Walt Disney's famous club.

Could all this be a desire to return to a simpler, more idealistic time, as a reaction against the pressures of keeping up with today?

Where is your phone booth, Stanley? Superman NEVER changes in public.

A little old-fashioned cheese-cake, eh, Elizabeth?

Fuzzy Wuzzy wuz a bear . . .

The itsy bitsy spider climbed up the waterspout . . .

Many nursery rhymes originally had political references.
Mistress Mary, Quite Contrary was Mary, Queen of Scots.
Today, they help us remember the fun times of childhood, and inject a sense of humor on an otherwise dreary day.

Mrs. Beaton puts butter in the beater to make the bitter batter better.

Sing a song of six pence, A pocket full of rye.

Humpty Dumpty sat on a wall.

... Some in rags and some in tags and some in velvet gowns.

Heavy, heavy hangs over your head.

... crying at the windows, Rapping at the locks ...

Nancy Harrell wistfully dreams of other days, other times.

Mr. Horne appreciates the convenience of a typewriter.

Teachers and students mark the days in similar fashion each year. There are the usual stencils for teachers to type, the thoughts of homework staring us in the face, the last pep rally during which senior football players receive special recognition, the games strategy which should have worked, the tensions of a tight-scoring game.

The Senior Line-up.

Coach Payne, Anthony Freeman, Ray Porter and Craig Elam absorb themselves totally in the game. Coyburn can't resist a peak at the camera.

The library receives constant use by the resourceful student.

Cindy Dundlow just dreams.

Waiting for the toss at the Faculty-Student game.

"... That the future might learn from the past." The motto of Colonial Williamsburg might be applied in various ways to our yen for nostalgic things. We learn how to conduct ourselves socially by attending such varied events as basketball games and the Junior-Senior Prom, both long-standing traditions at FHS. Our growth is based on past knowledge as we develop our talents in home economics, our brains in academic classes, or our physical prowess at play.

Each of us measures up to a pre-established yardstick whose segments help us make the right decisions.

Rita's stride is purposeful.

Mitosis is a process of growth based on previously existant cells.

A modern electric mixer is much better than the old hand beater.

Tina's height is recorded by Mr. Motley.

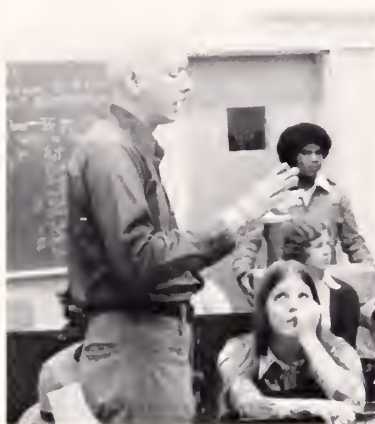

Clarence Lee, Mr. Wallace and Mrs. Holoman rehash old times at Jr.-Senior.

Arthur Wiggins has success ALMOST within his grasp.

Mr. Blaine's support was a major factor in the success of the SCA tumbler sale.

Mr. Blaine often uses library resources to make his classes more interesting.

This gala outfit recalls happy memories of times with Senor Pepe.

Each year we have teachers whom we remember fondly long after the course is finished — teachers who leave a large mark on the paper of our lives.

Because of his ability to be a friend as well as a teacher;

Because of his personal involvement in the affairs of Franklin High School;

Because of his efforts to build bridges of understanding between and the world;

Because of the time and energy which he devotes to sparking enthusiasm and interest in his classes;

Because of his attempts to further awareness of the Spanish language;

We, the 1976 Yearbook Staff, proudly dedicate the LOG to Administration

Mr. Bowling
Principal

Franklin's Administration underwent a few changes this year. Mr. Bowling, our new principal, made several rule revisions, among them a new examination schedule. Sound fiscal planning was stressed, as well as closer adherence to existing rules.

Mrs. Elaine Davis

Our guidance department, staffed by Mrs. Holoman and Mr. Parker, is very helpful to all the students at FHS. Some of their functions are guiding students in preparations for life after high school and averaging class ranks. They are always more than willing to discuss and help a student with any of the problems he or she might encounter.

Mrs. Davis and Mr. Bogenschneider, who compose the library staff, are constantly ordering new materials which better our library. They are always on hand to find books or help a student look up something he is having trouble with.

Custodial and Cafeteria Staffs

The custodians are often taken for granted, but they are essential behind-the-scenes personnel. They help regulate the school's climate through adjustment of air conditioning and heating. They do extra things like hanging maps or flags on the wall. And they keep the school shining.

The cooks try to provide nutritious well-balanced meals at lunchtime, and nourishing breakfasts in the morning to those who don't regularly eat any at home. This year they have served Bicentennial lunches at appropriate times, even redecorating the cafeteria with tablecloths and centerpieces. They serve the football team meals before their games which promotes unity on the team, for otherwise, the members would be eating alone at home.

As you can see, both our custodians and cafeteria staff deserve more appreciation.

You can count always on a friendly smile from Jewel Collins and Lucille Huggins as you go through the lunch line.

George Lee jealously guards his mop and bucket.

Dorothy White sweeps the floors til they're bright and shining.

Viola Smith pushes her cart out of the last room she has to clean.

Dorothy Artis looks a bit tired after a hard day.

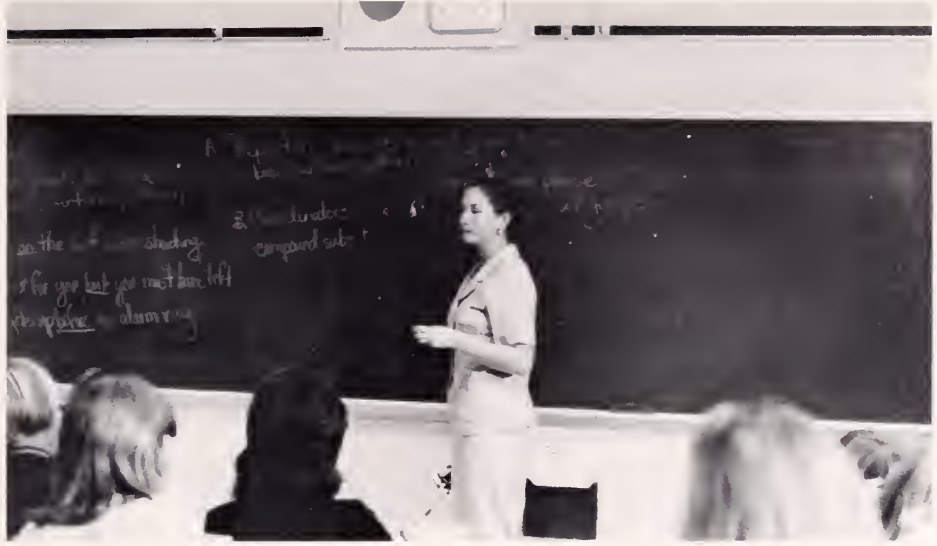

Mr. Johnston has been around FHS for a long time.

English

Ms. Barbara Radford

"Wake up, Ms. Radford!"

This year could be classified as an experimental one for the English department. During the latter part of the year every student taking English chose a course to take for six weeks. This program allowed the student some discretion in subject areas pursued. Courses were related to English or Literature and were taken as preparation for college. Some could be taken just out of interest in a specific topic area. Many students are excited at the prospects of a break in the conventional ways of teaching.

The Mathematics department at F.H.S. offers a number of courses, ranging from Math 9G to Math Analysis. For students who want to continue their math studies, there is an opportunity to go to nearby Paul D. Camp Community College to take Calculus. With our new division of diplomas, many students are getting a more diversified math curriculum.

The program also allows students to learn at different curricular areas and to learn to their fullest capacity. Highlights include nature walks to observe and identify native trees, and the study of the frog.

Business & D.E.

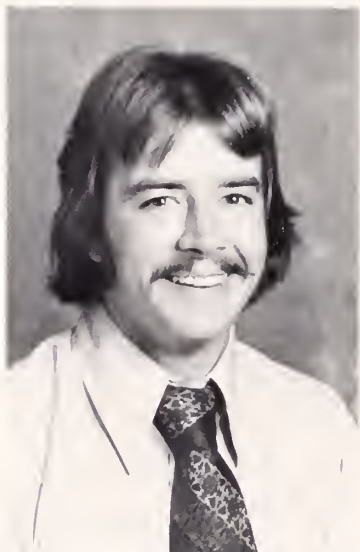

Marva Congleton

Our business department offers a variety of courses, such as Business Law, Shorthand, Book-keeping, Typing, and General Business. These courses are basically for the student who plans to work immediately following high school, but can also be useful to the student who wants a basic knowledge of the subject matter.

The Distributive Education classes have gone on numerous trips this year, including one trip to P.D. Pruden. Also this year, the D.E. department has added a new teacher, Mr. Horne, who has adjusted to F.H.S. very quickly.

Some of the electives offered at F.H.S., such as Home Economics, Art, and Foreign Languages, are designed to help develop cultural and domestic abilities. French IV has been added to our Foreign Language curriculum, which is geared towards more specialized and individualized instruction. The Home Economics department continues to appeal to the girls, but more and more boys are enrolling as they see the need for "Male liberation." The Art classes have been using their immediate environment to learn the theory of perspective and to emphasize creativity. Hopefully, the experiences in these classes enrich the lives of the students.

This has been an exciting year for our Advanced Band. With formation of the Band Boosters Club, the band has been aided financially and was able to get new uniforms. The intermediate band has been working very hard this year, and has performed in our Christmas assembly. Mr. Kidd, our new choral director, has organized various singing and playing activities, in addition to his regular classes. Mr. Cayne, our industrial arts teacher, has been busy teaching the construction of various useful articles, as well as teaching mechanical drawing. Our Special Education Department has acquired a new teacher, Ms. Barnes.

Physical Education Gets It Together

Fred Felts

The main objectives of the P.E. department are to further develop the student's body physically and to promote good sportsmanship. Many activities are taught, ranging from basketball in the winter to tennis in the spring.

In the first semester of the ninth grade, health is taught along with physical education. During the second semester, a useful course in first aid is taught. In the tenth grade, driver's education is taught during the first semester with drug education following in the second semester. With these courses the students gain knowledge they can apply in many areas.

A yearning for the good old days manifested itself through the enthusiastic support of Clash Day and Graffiti Day. (Our parents called it "Tacky Day".) The main idea was to have fun and show our school spirit. Spirit in general revived.

After school we enjoyed such canned nostalgia as LITTLE HOUSE ON THE PRAIRIE and THE WALTONS on TV. GONE WITH THE WIND and THE SOUND OF MUSIC were eagerly anticipated to make their TV premiers.

In the movie houses we rushed to see THE RETURN OF THE PINK PANTHER, THE WILDERNESS FAMILY, BAMBI, and SNOW WHITE.

JUNIORS

A year of excitement and anticipation. We won the award for the best hall decoration and the spirit stick prior to the Southhampton football game. While our young men were becoming young ladies, our young ladies were learning to play football to prepare for the Powder Puff game.

When the day for our class rings came, most of the juniors were here at school early enough to line up in front of the auditorium before 8:15. At the end of the day, few hands were not tired.

Plans for the Junior-Senior Prom took much time and effort. Money making projects and class dues were decided upon so that this year's dance could be the "Best Ever".

'Tis A Grand Old Class — 1976

CLASS OFFICERS: Wanda Griffith, Secretary; Joe Ferki, President; Nancy Harrell, Treasurer.
BACK: Regina Haley, Vice-president.

"Memories may be beautiful and yet, what is too painful to remember, we simply choose just to forget." That is what we, the Senior Class of 1976, feel. Our four great years of being a part of FHS were memorable and unforgettable. They have been exciting years — the arrival of class rings, the Junior-Senior Prom, being accepted in college; disappointing years — not beating SHS in football, not winning the Powderpuff Football Game; happy years — the hall decoration contest at last, receiving individual awards of various types such as making the All-Peanut District team, making Regional Chorus, going to Boys' and Girls' State, being a member of the State Tri-Hi-Y Council; and sad years — losing the regional basketball title by a single point, and our last year at FHS.

As each one of us leaves our high school days we will always carry our memories of what we were.

Coach Peggy Wilkins cuts down the game net.

The Bronkettes had a tremendous season this year. Though they had to forfeit a game, they went on to actually lose only one game, and the outcome was 8-2.

The girls practiced hard. With the strategy Coach Wilkins used with her players, there was hardly a team that could conquer them. In the outcome of the season, the Bronkettes were runners-up in the district, champions of the regionals, and semi-finalists in the State.

This year's team only had two seniors, Yvette Leonard and Sheryl Rawls. Yvette Leonard was named to the all-district team with sophomore Carolyn Everette.

Congratulations to the 1975 Girl's Basketball team for their season.

The Broncos were "small in size," but were said to have "big hearts". They went forth with much energy and determination to shut-out Gloucester, and beat Suffolk, Windsor, Central, and John F. Kennedy to make it a 5-3-2 season.

Although they had "big hearts", they also had "heartbreaks". When co-captain Paul Hinson was injured in the John Yeates game, the team seemed to lose some of its spirit, but only temporarily. The Broncos came back the next Friday night to hold the Northampton Yellowjackets to a 0-0 tie at Homecoming.

All District Honorable Mentions for the Broncos this year were Bobby Edwards, Wayne Baines, Alvin Lee, and Richard Smith. Ronnie Adams was the only member of the Broncos to make All-District first team at split end. In addition, Ronnie made Honorable Mention as Safety.

J.V. CHEERLEADERS

Cheerleaders worked and practiced hard to cheer their "fellows" on to victory. Doing complicated stunts and shouting at the top of their lungs added to the excitement of J.V. football and basketball. Winning or losing, our J.V. cheerleaders kept up the spirit throughout the entire school.

Varsity Cheerleaders

The Varsity Cheerleaders proved that there really is some hot spirit at F.H.S. Going to camp at Randolph Macon Women's College in Lynchburg improved all of their skills, and they even won the Spirit stick. Selling donuts and booster stickers helped the athletic fund with some extra money. Pep rallies were really enjoyed by all students because of the hard work put into them by the Cheerleaders. Silly skits and making up songs added to the fun at all of the Pep Rallies. Football games were a big challenge to the Cheerleaders, and every Cheerleader was crying when the season was finally over. "We will never all be back together again to cheer for the same boys", they said.

But they still had basketball cheering to look forward to and what an exciting season that proved to be.

Congratulations, Cheerleaders for being so spirited!

The Spanish Club has been one of the more active clubs. Early in the year they decided that they would like to go to Puerto Rico during Spring Break and channelled much of their energies toward realizing this goal. They sponsored a ham raffle and numerous car washes to raise sufficient money. A benefit show was also given, featuring mainly Blue Grass music. For the second year the Spanish "choir" gave their rendition of a "Spanish" carol at the Christmas Assembly.

Many of the members were thrilled when they learned that Senor Pepe would be returning to this area with his bride in late March for a short visit.

A Time of Rejoicing

Mr. Bowling instructs everyone to rise as the Seniors march into the auditorium.

Cindy Lankford smiles as she leads the Seniors in.

The 1975 Christmas Concert held in the auditorium consisted of various forms of entertainment. Among them were the Spanish Club singing Christmas carols in Spanish, and the FHS Band playing various types of Christmas music. It was especially memorable for the seniors because it was the first time they walked in as the graduating class.

The school Chorus entertains the student body as a part of the assembly.

Theresa Godbold informs everyone what is going to take place.

Robbie Brown reads a scripture from the Bible.

A Traditional Rite

Carol Gormley, Maid of Honor, accompanied by her father enjoyed watching the majorettes, dressed in '50's style, as they twirled a routine to ROCK AROUND THE CLOCK.

To have or not to have a Homecoming Dance that was the question. Due to numerous problems, such as where to have the dance, what the mode of dress would be, what the hours should be, and where to get the money, we almost didn't have it. However the SCA successfully tackled each problem. Representatives approached the Faculty and requested that dress be casual with certain guidelines set by the SCA. They also asked that the dance be given from 9 pm to 1 am. The faculty concurred. A tumblers sale was sponsored throughout the student body to raise money for the band.

Over 300 students enjoyed dancing to the "top 40" tunes as played by the Crystals in the spooky decor of the school cafeteria.

Lorraine Best and Joanne White appreciated the routine presented by the Flag Team for the Court's entertainment.

Band Uniform Finally Arrives

The Franklin High School Band has needed new uniforms for a long while. They started fund raising projects last year in order to complete their goal this fall. Among these projects were: selling candy, light bulbs, and many other articles; a raffle for a 1976 Pinto car which the Reverend S. D. Bowman won; also, many donations were given in order to help the band reach their goal.

Bobby Bryant displays what the plumes for the band hats look like.

Sharon Jones is happy with her complete uniform.

Glenda Smith shows the over-lay while the other band members anxiously await theirs.

Alan Tayloe helps Mr. Barton pass out the new uniforms to the other band members.

Navy Band Concert

Paul D. Camp Community College was responsible for the Navy Band being able to come back to FHS, February 3rd. They performed for the entire student body in the afternoon and for the general public that night. Their music ranged from '30's music to present day rock. Both concerts were enjoyed by everyone.

Mrs. Richardson mingles with the students.

Mrs. Manley mans the cashier's box in her perky colonial bonnet.

Bruce Puffer, Doug Edwards, and Bob Fraik preferred to brown-bag their lunch (They DID enjoy the tablecloths!)

Mrs. Richardson and her staff arranged to have a Bicentennial Lunch Day on Friday, January 16, 1976. Preparations for this special day included a Bicentennial lunch, colonial costumes were worn by the cafeteria staff, and red and white checked tablecloths on the tables. Advance publicity had everyone wondering just what a Bicentennial lunch was. Translated, the menu was milk, sweet potatoes or mashed potatoes, fried chicken, peas, and rolls.

Mrs. Collins beams an 18th century smile.

Final moments of relaxation before the action of debate.

I'd rather drink than debate.

A District Forensics meet was hosted by us February 12th. The categories in which the students participated were public speaking, extemporaneous speaking, poetry reading, prose reading, and spelling. All categories except for spelling were divided into two sections — one for boys and one for girls.

The appetizers were great; now, let's get down to business.

P. D. Pruden Technical and Vocational School is the culmination of several years' dreams and plans. It is the special project of Francis Clark, former Franklin City School Board Chairman. It was built to better prepare students who wish to enter the world of business after high school.

Students from Isle of Wight and the cities of Franklin and Suffolk go half a day to their individual schools, and the rest of the day is spent at P.D. Pruden. Transportation by buses is provided for the students to and from their base schools.

P.D. Pruden is located on highway 460 near Windsor, on property donated by Mr. Pruden. It is approximately twenty miles from Franklin.

Some of the courses offered include Data Processing, Auto Mechanics, Cosmetology, Air Conditioning and Refrigeration.

Alumni in Search of By-Gone Days.

Alumni Day was held on December 18, 1975, to enable former FHS students to talk with each other and their teachers. It was instituted in hopes of it becoming an annual event, by Mr. Bowling and the faculty. It is a means of allowing teachers to keep in contact with their students and what they are doing now. It is also a community relations device allowing students to see how things have changed since they went to high school.

Herman Harris inspects one of the carrels as he enjoys a cookie.

Mr. Richter, Mr. Cayne, Mr. Carter and Mr. Sandidge seem to be thoroughly enjoying themselves.

Advertising

Which float do we follow, Mr. B.?

The compass says Main Street is due north.

The face of our town is changing. Many new businesses choose to move to the suburbs, or to shopping centers, as do some of the old established firms. Taking the business to the people has stimulated a whole new line of sales. However, the downtown area of yesteryear can still remain viable. Commerce, at least in the smaller towns, can and does still flourish on Main Street, U.S.A., as long as there are activities to bring the buyer down.
